IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD. Brisk Practice at Harvard, Yale, Princeton

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 29.-The larges squad of the season followed Capt. Dibbles to the gridiron this afternoon. The opening of the college brought an unusual number of the stu-dents to the field, and as the candidates appeared they were greeted by enthusiastic ap-plause. This is a good sign, as young Harvard is usually undemonstrative to the verge of iciness. The players seemed to feel the compliment, as the play was noticeably fast and hard. Coach Forbes introduced an innovation by allowing no one to coach while the play was on. McMasters held the watch on the men, and, as it was very humid, called short breathing spells at about the middle of both halves.

Daly, Dibblee, and Warren did excellent work for the first 'varsity. Warren, who went in after Dibblee was retired by McMasters, made after Dibblee was retired by McMaaters, made some good runs and dives through the centre. The colored tackle, Lee; J. B. Lawrence, an end; Livermore, Speers, and Brown, tackles; Campbell, tackle and captain of last year's Worcester Academy, and Buxton came out as candidates for the team to-day. The first 'varsity, presumably the men who are likely to go in against Williams on Saturday, went to the training table to-right. The men taken were: Dibblee, Mills, Cochrane, Richardson, Boal, Burence, Burnett, Ellis, I. W. Kendall, Reed, and Daly, More men will be taken on as the season ad-More men will be taken on as the season advances. The freehman squad, numbering 114, began work under Donald, '99, to-day. The men seem rather undersized.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—Pennsylvania took her usual football practice on Franklin Field this afternoon. After an hour of kicking, eatching, signal drill of the varsity by Woodruff and of the scrub by Murnby the teams lined up. They played a rather still game for about forty minutes, the main features of which were an accident to McMahon and poor work by the varsity. Toward the end of practice McMahon fell and had to be assisted from the field. He had wrenched the ligaments of an ankle, and will not be able to play for at least a week.

an ankle, and will not be able to play for at least a week.

New Haven, Sept. 29.—Two more graduate coaches came to-day to aid Capt. Chamberlin of the Yale eleven. They were the captains of the teams of the past two years—James Rodgers and Fred Murphy. Their assistance in developing the line men will be timely. No changes occurred in the 'varsity make-up to-day except at centre, where Cutten was reinstated. Marryn played full back in the first half, sooring a touchdown. The 'varsity scored twice, once in each of the ten-minute halves. Several drop kicks were tried by Chamberlin and Sullivan. De Saules made three long runs by crafty dodging in his new position at half back.

Painceron, Sept. 29.—The 'varsity and scrub teams lined up against each other to-day and played the best contested practice game seen on the field this year. Trainer Christie lengthened the practice to fifteen-minute halves. The first eleven scored once in the last half. Reiter making the touchdown and Mattis kicking the goal. The playing was hard and fast all through, but bed fumbling by the quarter backs spoiled many of the formations. Both sides played a kicking game, and Mattis made an excellent showing at full back on the 'varsity. Craig was in his old place at left end for the first time to-day, and served to greatly strengthen that side of the line. Palmer was moved to right end, where he will fight it out with Montgomery until Lathrope returns. Mills, the big freehman, made such a good impression that he was promoted to right and Edwards being relegated to the scrub. Gear was at left tackie, where he played himself off his legs and had to retire in favor of Heam. The squad was reduced to-day to forty-two men, most of whom will be taken to the scrub table. The freshman team began to practice this afternoon with thirty-five candidates.

M'COY ESCAPED IN A TROLLEY. Considine, Sharkey and O'Rourke Tried to

Because of a tip that reached him in the nick of time. "Kid" McCoy escaped a lively experi-ence at Coney Island directly after the Lavigne-Erne fight on Wednesday night. It appears that during the row at the Gilsey House between McCoy and Corbett, the former applied a vile epithet to George Considing, Corbett's manager, Considine, hot under the collar, went to Coney Island looking for trouble. With him were Tom Sharkey, the sailor pugilist, and the latter's manager, Tom O'Bourke. According to their plan, Considine was engage McCoy in a rough and tumble scrap. Sharkey was to nail a big slugger named Reilly, who was with McCoy, while O'Rourke should see to it that the "Kid's" sparring partner. "Doo" Payne, did no harm. Considing, Sharkey, and O'Rourke entered the Coney Island clubhouse just before McCoy went into the ring behind Erne. Somebody told McCoy that trouble was brewing, and the latter appealed to the Police Captain for protection. The Captain went over to Considine's latter appealed to the Police Captain for protection. The Captain went over to Considine's box and said:

"Gentlemen, I do not want any trouble here, consequently I wish you to let McCoy alone while he is in the clubhouse. We cannot stand for a free fight. If one occurs I shall be compelled to make arrests."

The Captain was assured that there would be no trouble and the fight in the ring proceeded. After it was over Considine, Sharkey and O Rourke went outside the main entrance and waited. The tipster, whoever he was, again got in his work, and when McCoy arrived at the door he looked out over the heads of those in front of him. In battle array he saw three of the hardest rough and tumble experts in America, and he promptly turned back, so the story goes. Out of the rear door of the clubhouse on to the sandy beach McCoy hurried, and by a wide detour he landed finally at the Nassau trolley road terminus. Without delay he chartered a special car and was whisked to Manhattan borough. Considine, Sharkey and O'Bourke got wind of his escape a few minutes later and boarded another car in hot pursuit. They loitered around the bridge entrance at half past 2 o'clock yesterday morning, hoping that McCoy would appear, and later made a tour of the all-night restaurants uptown. But the "Kid" could not be found. Considine says he will treat the young puglist to a dose of his own medicine on sight.

CORBETT STILL IN BED. He and McCoy Had Arranged to Divide the

The kick which Jim Corbett says was administered to him by "Kid" McCoy in their encounter at the Gilsey House on Wednesday afternoon is having more painful results than at first supposed. Corbett was still confined to his bed yesterday, and is likely to remain there for some days to come. There seems to be little doubt that the ex-champion was kicked by some one. The mark clearly shows that. Corbett's quarters are at present at the Stuart House on Broadway. The ex-champion said yesterday that he intended to let McCoy go his way in the future, and would not molest him if way in the future, and would not molest him if he ever came across him on the street. "It's no use of fighting for glory." said Jim, "when we can get a club and money, is it?"

Considine, who was present, then made the startling declaration that Corbett and McCoy were to have divided the $20,000 purse equally, and showed articles of agreement to this effect. They bear the signatures of "Billy" Gray for McCoy, Dave J. Rugent for the Hawthorne Club, and Considine for Corbett. The appended clause in the papers covers the point. In consideration of the fulfilment of this greement by the parties of the second part, the party of the first part hereby agrees to pay to the parties of the second part the sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), to be divided equally between said considine further said: "Corbett will be ready to box McCoy on Oct. 15, at the Hawthorne A. C. of Buffalo, but will insist on the winner taking all and barring the picture privilege. We will not box under any other circumstances."

ilege. We will not box under any other circumatanees."

When Billy Gray, McCoy's manager, was seen in reference to this he said: "Corbett is teiling a falsehood if he says that McCoy insisted on a division of the purse. It was Corbett who wanted this, and we agreed. But we were not to be fooled, and he wouldn't have repeived a cent if he had lost. McCoy will fight him at Buffalc on Oct. 15, winner to take all. I have the articles in my possession, and signed by Corbett, to this effect. I will not say anything at present about the picture privilege."

ers to Great Bend, Ind., and Macon, Ga., Where He Meant to Sell Them-Preparing to Quit Town When Caught. Reuben Goldstein, an expressman, of the firm of Epstein & Goldstein of 29 East Broadway, was arrested yesterday by Detective Sergeant Murths and Detectives Galilgan and Leonard of the Elizabeth street station on a charge of grand larceny. The amount stolen is estimated at $20,000 by the detectives, but may reach much larger figures. The pris-oner was arraigned before Magistrate Pool in the Centre Street Police Court just before court closed for the day, and at the request of Detective Galligan the prisoner was remanded to the Elizabeth street staton to await the appear-

The specific charge upon which Goldstein was arrested was brought by Wolf Blume, a wholesale dealer in cloaks at 41 East Broad-Blume alleges that Goldstein, who has done his carrying for some time, scratched out the addresses which had been placed upon eight cases of cloaks sent out to customers in different parts of the United States, and sub-eight cases of cloaks sent out to customers in different parts of the United States, and substituted a fictitious address, shipping the goods to Great Bend. Ind. When Goldstein was arrested at noon yesterday he was ready to start for the West, having already purchased a ticket for Chicago. This particular lot of goods was valued at about $3,000, but Mr. Blume asserts that within the last ten days he has intrusted to Goldstein goods which vill asgregate at least $12,000 in value, and that he has heard nothing from any of these goods aince the time of shipment.

Since Goldstein's arrest complaints have come in to Caut. Stephenson of the Elizabeth street station from L. Markolus & Son of Great Jones street, who charge Goldstein with the larceny of ten cases of trousers and other clothing, aggregating $4,000 in value, and from N. Rieinfuss of 9 Catharine street, who asserts that Goldstein has stolen from him goods worth $3,000.

Goldstein has apparently been planning his fight from this city for about ten days, as the earliest of the alleged larcenies occurred on Sept. 21. His plan appears to have been to visit the railway stations to which he has shinped the goods, collect them from the express company, and dispose of them to local dealers. So far as has been learned, the bulk of the stolen property has been sent to Great Bend, Ind., and Macon, Ga., and Capt. Stephenson has telegraphed to the express agents in these cities to hold the goods until detectives can be sent on from the Central Office.

Levi Epstein, the partner of Goldstein, was arrested last night, but succeeded in convincing the detectives of his ignorance of Goldstein's crimes and was released. Goldstein will be rearraigned in the Centre Street Police Court to-day, when it is expected a number of new compilaints against him will be made.

BELLA A. WILSON'S WILL.

The Murdered Brooklyn Widow Made It in 1894 Second Husband's Expectations. Joseph Wilson and Archibald C. Shenstone executors of the will of Ella A. Wilson, the rich widow who was shot and killed last Thursday at her home, 867 Union street, Brooklyn, by James O'Neill, have filed petition with lyn, by James O'Neill, have filed petition with the Surrogate for its admission to probate. They also made application for the appoint-ment of a guardian for the two children, Wil-iam A. Wilson and Jacob Wilson Mallon, who are supposed to be the only beneficiaries. The will, which will probably be filed to-day, was executed in July, 1894, shortly after Mrs. Wil-son's separation from her second husband, Peter Mallon. The latter, according to a de-spatch from San Francisco, where he has been living for the past three years, expects to in-herit a part of the estate, which is valued at $100,000.

There were the usual disappointments a the Greenwood A. Bassell was simply a punching bag for Shortell. In the ninth round the referee stopped the mill. Shortell easily the referee stopped the mill. Shortell easily won, but the referee called it a draw. He said that Bassell had met with "an accident" and that he was unable to pick a winner.

Mike Toots of Brooklyn, met Tommy Holden of New York, in a ten-round bout at 122 pounds. They went at it like two longshoremen, and pranced about the ring. Toots who knew more than his rival about the game, swung his left and bled Holden's nose. Toots kept pounding Holden until the seventh round. After this he went to pieces and the decision was a draw.

Eddie Goodbody of New York faced Pete Burke of Brooklyn in the next essay. Burke took the place of Cal McCarty of Philadelphia, who, it was announced, was unable to who, it was announced, was unable to go on, owing to his having an injured hand. Burke and Goodbody came together for ten rounds at 112 pounds. Burkesurprised everyone by his showing. He was on top of Goodbody from the start and never gave his adversary a breathing spell. Burke got the decision.
